Pacifica 'Community Progress Congress' Productive

Nearly 200 Pacifica residents participated in the city's Congress for Community Progress at Oceana High School Saturday, and produced scores of recommendations for civic improvements during the course of the all-day meeting.

Broken into six panel discussion groups, participants in the program "pooled" their recommendations during a general afternoon session, and also heard guidelines for future planning suggested by Lt. Gov. Ed Fike of Nevada, guest speaker at the "congress."

Superior Judge Conrad Reisch served as presiding chairman for the program, which was sponsored jointly by the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce and Pacific Gas and Electric Company, and Lee Riewerts was general chairman.

John Plato served as moderator of the "community services" panel; Bill Feeney, governmental services; Sheila Hyman, civic pride; Dale Buettgenback, business development; Miss Barty Santos and Thomas Mohr, youth and education, and Wally Sharp, recreation.

The following were some of the panel recommendations:

Community services: That the city initiate a study to determine the need for a child care center for low income or other deprivated families. That the city appoint a citizens committee to determine the type and cost of transportation system required, and call for an election to determine the public desire to have a tax supported intra-city transportation system.

Governmental Services: Upgrade police and fire services and re-evaluate the pay plan for city personnel in order to become more competitive. Encourage private development of beaches. Encourage tax reform, including tax reform for equallization of schools. Urge execution of freeway agreements and completion of Freeway 185 and Route 1.

Civic Pride: An inventory of assets be made and be made known to the citizens of the community. Better communications be established between the city government and the community. Pacifica should accept itself for what it is, a small, friendly community, and strive to perfect its assets.

Bunsiness Development: A board of directors of each of the shopping centers to coordinate activities and sales. Reconvene the bus committee to reinvestigate the needs and feasibility (of establishing public transportation). Study possibility of establishing a commercially based entertainment and recreational facility to serve the youth of this and adjacent areas. Continue to recognize that beaches are one of our most important assets, and that efforts to stimulate development be renewed immediately.

Youth and Education: That the city council form a commission, composed of an equal number of adults and young people, made up of representatives who are part of the entire cross-section of the community, to continually consider and seek solutions to problems confronting young people, such as transportation, employment, recreation, counseling, drug use, conflicts with the law and other factors.

(The Youth and Education Panel also recommended endorsement of the efforts of the School Finance Strategy Committee, now attempting to obtain additional state funds for the Laguna Salada Elementary District, and urged further implimentation of family life education in the city's schools.)

Recreation: Set up a large park and do more to improve school groups. Look into foster grandparent — federally funded program. Make a survey of all ages on what they feel is needed for recreation. Improve liaison between city recreation and other organizations. Advise city planners to leave some land empty for recreation use. Place trails in some areas for motorbikes, dune buggies, etc. Have the state buy beaches to develop, with the county to maintain them and the city to operate them.

At the general meeting following the panel sessions Saturday, participants in the "congress" referred their recommendations to city officials for consideration by the council, commissions, and other agencies.

An Incorporation Bid For Colma-Broadmoor

Application Filed With County Body

By WILL E. THOMAS

Leaders of a move to form a city out of the unincorporated Broadmoor area, nearly surrounded by Daly City, have filed their incorporation intent with the local Agency Formation Commission.

But, LAFC is seen as a high hurdle by most everyone associated with the campaign, for or against. There are those sources close to the county government who say that indeed the incorporation bid will never gain LAFC approval.

Yet, people like Al Ickler, a building contractor, Thomas Bocci, an attorney, former judge, and an original Broadmoor property owner, and Tom Callan, a developer, have been pushing incorporation for several years.

They signed the papers that Friday went to LAFC.

Ickler is the president of the Broadmoor Property Owners' Association and his involvement has spanned at least five years.

He first became involved, he recalls, when Daly City launched an annexation attempt some years ago involving an unincorporated area on Mission Street.

"It would have divided our whole territory into two islands," Ickler recalled.

"They found out about it late," he noted, "so they came to me and wanted to know what we could do to stop it.

"We sent letters and opposed it . . . (and) got the annexation stopped."

But, Ickler also recalled:

"We were told at the time by the Local Agency Formation Commission that we should think about the future — either think about incorporation, or of annexation to Daly City."

He added that the Broadmoor group was advised "annexations would go on, and eventually we would have no tax base to do anything with."

"So," Ickler said, "I picked it up from there and carried the ball, and the board (Broadmoor

Bruno Delays Garbage Rate Boost Action

Action by the San Bruno City Council on a request by the San Bruno Garbage Company for an increase in collection rates Monday night was delayed until January 22.

A council committee of two — Neil Christal and Karney Barberian — recommended the delay.

Christal said four garbage company proposals, plus one of their own, have been discussed.

"However," Christal said, "certain information that has been requested for our own edification" has not yet been received.

During the public discussion period, a resident, Les Kelting, speaking on behalf "of a committee which has been set up for the purpose of studying methods used by our city in determining whether or not the garbage company should be granted increases in their rates," said he had "four or five requests they would like to make before a meeting with the garbage company takes place."

Kelting said, "We feel the garbage company is the same as a public utility and should be treated the same as any utility when an increase in rates is requested."

He said, too, "Public notice should be given by the council, and proper public hearing should be held."

Additionally, "We feel the

Muni Bus For Pacifica Under Study

Pacifica councilmen Monday ordered a "feasibility study" into the possibility of establishing a municipal bus system in the city.

Councilmen agreed to look into the problem of public transportation after business leaders, through the city's chamber of commerce, indicated "it will not be feasible for the business community to undertake a contract for bus service."

In a letter to the council this week, Chamber Manager Dan Johns said leaders of his organization feel the city should "either negotiate with a private firm for transportation service, or set up its own bus system."

The lack of public transportation in the coastside city was one of the most often mentioned problems cited at a "Congress for Community Progress" meeting last week, and has long been a source of inconvenience to both the city's youths and elderly residents.

Chamber officials suggested that the council appoint a committee investigate the problem Monday, but Mayor Nick Gust opposed this proposal, stating "the time has come when the council is going to have to make a decision."

Councilmen agreed that the first step toward a "realistic solution" to the problem will involve a cost study.

When probable cost of a city-provided system is determined, the problem can be taken to the public "in the form of a ballot measure," councilmen stated.

The transportation issue will be taken up at the next study session between the council and city staff members.

Family Life Ruling In S.S.F. Schools

South San Francisco Unified School District Supt. Dr. Paul Nielsen this week reiterated the board of trustees' policy on student participation in the district's family life education program.

The board policy, as adopted last October, "reserves to parents or guardians the option of the withdrawing their children from any or all of the family life education classes except in the areas of instruction mandated by law," the superintendent said.

All requests for withdrawal "shall be in writing to the school principal each year specifying areas or subject matter from which students are requested to be withdrawn," the policy states.

"This policy has been interpreted and defined by the district attorney to mean that there are three areas where children may be withdrawn from classes in our school district," Dr. Nielsen said.

"These areas are health education courses, on the basis of religious conviction; physical education courses, on the basis of poor physical health; and class presentations in human reproduction," the superintendent said.

Bruno Mtn. Park, Rec Plans Told

Ralph H. Shaw, county director of parks and recreation, admitted this week the north county area has been purposely slighted by his department because of its climatic shortcomings.

"We have deliberately avoided recommending parks north of San Bruno," Shaw said in a report to County Mgr. E. R. Stallings, "because we felt that the weather was too poor. . . ."

Shaw, however, has come up with an idea for a recreational park on San Bruno Mountain, "a facility that would be used regardless of weather conditions." He proposed that the county acquire 40 or 50 acres of the "saddle" area, the most usable part of the mountain. Some indoor facilities would be built and outdoor facilities would be confined to active sports that could be carried on regardless of the weather.

San Bruno Mountain would not be suitable for camping and picnicking, Shaw said, because of the winds and the cold.

He recommended that the county continue to work with the land owner, Crocker Land Company, in hopes of dovetailing the county's plans with the company's development plans. Because of the terrain, Shaw said, any development plan would of necessity leave a large

Daly City Considers Ambulance Control

By DON GRIERSON

Daly City councilmen are considering a new ordinance to regulate the operation of ambulance companies which, if adopted, would force the only emergency ambulance service in the city to cease operations, according to the firm's owner.

Mike McDonald, owner-operator of Mercy Ambulance Company, said a new ordinance introduced at Monday's council meeting would, in effect, force his company to quit serving the Daly City area.

A stipulation of the proposed new ordinance would require that all ambulance companies operating within the city "maintain an office and store all vehicles within the city limits."

The ordinance, according to a city source, is aimed at "assuring that emergency ambulance service will be available immediately, and that ambulances can be dispatched from within the city."

McDonald's office, garage, crew quarters and radio tower are located 175 feet outside the city limits in the unincorporated area on Reiner Street.

The only other ambulance company serving Daly City, King American of San Francisco, does not handle emergency calls, except when notified by a physician, according to McDonald.

The Mercy ambulance operator, who has been in business in Daly City for the past nine years, said there is no suitable location for his operation within the city.

"We searched for a location three years," he said, "and there was simply none available."

The operation requires a sizeable garage, crew sleeping quarters and room for a radio tower and other equipment, as well as office space, he said, and "such facilities are extremely difficult to locate."

McDonald's firm serves portions of South San Francisco, Pacifica and unincorporated areas of the county, as well as Daly City, and operates four ambulances on a 24-hour basis.

"If Daly City adopts the ordinance now proposed, South San Francisco and Pacifica could adopt similar ordinances," he pointed out today, "then every ambulance company in the northern part of the county would be restricted to operating within a single city."

This, McDonald says, would result in no ambulance service at all, "because none of the cities can sustain a 24-hour operation on its own."

In Daly City, there is an average of three calls for emergency ambulance service each day, "certainly not enough business to sustain an ambulance company," he said.

Daly City officials appealed to ambulance companies throughout the Bay Area nine years ago

Exceptions Told

Pacifica Council Refuses to Alter Residency Rules

While refusing to alter a residency requirement for city employees, Pacifica councilmen Monday agreed to "publicize" the fact that exceptions to the requirement are sometimes allowed "in cases of extreme hardship."

City Manager C. W. Masonheimer and the city's personnel advisory commission urged councilmen to abandon the resedency requirement on grounds it is "seriously affecting our ability to recruit qualified candidates for a number of vacancies."

In his plea to the council, Masonheimer stated that "if we cannot eliminate what is generally considered to be an obsolete requirement, it would help to announce that such requirements can be waived under cirtain conditions."

Employee recruiting announcements in Pacifica presently specify that all employees must assume residency in the city within 18 monts of hiring.

Under the council ruling Monday, future announcements will include a statement clarifying the city's policy of waiving the requirement in certain rare situations.

There are presently about four city employees who live outside Pacifica, according to Masonheimer.

Mrs. Linda Shipley, president of the Pacifica Employees Association, urged councilmen to remove the residency requirement, and assured them employees would not engage in a "rush to move out of the city."

"Employees simply want the right to live and send their children to school where they choose," Mrs. Shipley said.

She said the question at issue was "whether or not employers have the right to dictate where their employees shall live."

Mayor Nick Gust and council members upheld the residency requirements on grounds that it "keeps Pacifica money in Pacifica" in the form of taxes paid by city employees.

They also said it is essential that city employees be immediately available for duty in cases of emergency.

The personnel advisory commission recommended several months ago that all residency requirements be lifted, except in the case of public safety employees.

The commission recommended that police and fire department personnel be required to live within a 10-mile radius of the city.

A Warning to Pacificans On Bid to End Pay Parity

A spokesman for Daly City's fire department personnel last week warned Pacifica councilmen of possible ill effects which might result from a proposal to "break pay parity" between firemen and policemen in the coastside city.

In a letter to the council, Al Thuesen, president of the Daly City Firemen's Benevolent Association, outlined the results of a "decline in morale" which he maintains has occurred among Daly City firemen since the city instituted a "differential" such as that proposed in Pacifica.

According to Thuesen, many Daly City firemen are "anxiously awaiting to leave the department" becuase of the council's action in increasing policemen's salaries above the level of those paid firemen.

Daly City councilmen began the pay differential with the 1968-69 budget, and refused to reconsider their action last month.

In his letter to Pacifica officials, Thuesen said 19 Daly City firemen took the examination for positions with the San Francisco Fire Department last month.

"It is reasonable to assume that at least 15 of these men passed the examination, and

A Couple Of Fast Talkers In San Bruno

Two men posing as narcotics agents talked their way out of one San Bruno apartment, then went across the hall and burglarized another Monday.

San Bruno police said today that Mrs. Brenda Mann, 21, of 707 Masson Avenue, Apt. 4, upon her return from a visit to her doctor at 2:30 p.m. found the door to her apartment wide open and two men standing inside.

When the two men were challenged by Mrs. Mann as to their presence there, they said they were "narcotics officers," looking for narcotics.

When the woman asked for identification, the pair replied that they didn't have to show her anything and walked out.

Soon after, Mrs. Mann noticed her portable stereo had been moved.

Going outside her apartment, she saw the same two men in apartment 3, across the hall. She asked them what they were doing there, and was told by the duo that apparently they had been to the wrong apartment the first time; that this was the Property Owners' Association) became interested."

The movement began "good," but tapered off.

"There was not enough interest," Ickler said, and it "sat for a year or so."

The BPOA again decided to study the incorporation possibilities and financed a second study by the Coro Foundation.

Ickler was called upon again to spearhead the campaign.

"Fine," agreed Ickler once more. "I'll take it over on the one condition that I get the support and we'll go all the way."

He said, "They agreed to it, and that's what's been done."

Another report on the feasibility of incorporation was provided by Joe Arch, former finance officer of the city of Daly City. Ickler combined earlier material and submitted the packet to Bocci for correlation the day before submission to LAFC.

But why incorporation?

"One of the big reasons is financial," Ickler declared, explaining that a tax rate of 19 cents (coupled with the present county, educational, and special district rates) is proposed.

The Daly City rate, Ickler said, is over $1.60, "which you can see is quite a difference."

The proposal "makes pretty good allowances for the first year," said Ickler, and the figures are "conservative' on anticipated revenue, but "high" on expenses.

He and the others fostering the bid to become San Mateo County's nineteenth incorporated city point to the availability of funds now going to the county, or that would go to Daly City in the event of annexation.

Most services would remain the same — sewage, water, streets, health, and others — through contractual agreement.

But the police department would be under complete authority of the proposed new municipality.

"We have very good police protection, I feel much better than Daly City," Ickler boasted.

It is, he said, "much more efficient, because we have a smaller area."

Further, Ickler declared, "If we went into Daly City, we would pay higher taxes and have a lower level of service."

He said, "We can maintain equal or better services than Daly City — at a lesser cost."

"So," Ickler proclaimed, "we won't be sacrificing anything, but we'll be gaining financially and still have all the services. This applies to services in general."

A Warning to Pacificans On Bid to End Pay Parity

will be leaving our department," the association president said.

There have also been other "adverse effects" from the break in pay parity, according to Thuesen.

He said Daly City firemen have "lost their enthusiasm" for civic projects such as the annual "Operation Santa Claus" program.

This program, which involves repairing toys for distribution to needy children at Christmas time, was a popular activity among firemen until this year, he said.

"This Christmas, off-duty volunteer help for this activity was non-existent," Thuesen said, "and it was virtually impossible to drum up any support for the project."

The firemen's association president also noted that working relations between fire department personnel and policemen in Daly City are "strained, to say the least," as a result of the pay issue.

"The prevalent feeling among firemen is that the police department wrongly downgraded the fire department to attain their own ends," Thuesen said.

Attendance at the College of San Mateo fire science classes by Daly City firemen has "dropped off drastically," the association president said, and "virtually all the 22 firemen who had emergency radio receivers in their homes have returned them to the station."

Firemen announced last month they were turning in the radios, distributed on a voluntary basis for use in emergencies "such as a riot or earthquake," as a protest against the council's refusal to reconsider the pay parity issue.

"Our training program is suffering because the men don't put any enthusiasm into the drills," Thuesen said.

"This is what can happen when a city shoves its fire department into the civic rumble seat," the association president concluded.

Pacifica's Personnel Advisory Commission voted unanimously last month to recommend a break in parity, proposing a five per cent increase for firemen and 10 per cent for policemen this year.

The commission's recommendation was issued without comment, but the reason for the proposal is generally assumed to be related to difficulties in recruiting and retaining policemen.

Pacifica councilmen are expected to consider the recommendation at their regular meeting January 27.

amount of open space. He suggested that the county park be joined with the open area, in which hiking trails and vista points could be developed.

Shaw said Crocker officials told him that if the Regional Planning Committee recommendation that the county acquire 450 acres in the saddle area were followed, it would eliminate any possibility of the company developing the mountain.

"Therefore," Shaw said, "if the county wants to move ahead at this time they will have to condemn. And if they condemn in the saddle area they will, in effect, be buying the mountain."

Stallings said he will recommend to the Board of Supervisors Tuesday that Shaw's suggestion be "carefully" considered. He estimated it might cost the county $10 million if the entire saddle area were taken as recommended by RPC and said that would be "a terrible waste of the taxpayers' money." He added that he will also urge the board to be careful not to "embark on a program which would substitute the county for the city's responsibility to provide recreational facilities." It had been the policy for the county to provide regional parks, emphasizing such activitees as camping and picnicking, leaving it to the cities to provide intensive recreational facilities.

There has been considerable agitation in recent months from officials of north county cities, chiefly Daly City, for the county to buy park land on San Bruno Mountain. Shaw acknowledged in his report that the county's northernmost park, Junipero Serra Park in San Bruno, is not adequate to serve Daly City, Brisbane and South San Francisco.

Wife Is Shot, Husband Found Dead

A Daly City man shot his common-law wife, then took his own life on Tuesday, climaxing what neighbors described as "an all-night argument."

Richardo Delago, 45 Alexander Avenue, killed himself with a single shot from a .25-caliber automatic pistol about 7:20 a.m., after shooting Mrs. Helen Cleary, 43, with the same weapon.

Mrs. Cleary is reported in fair condition at Mary's Help Hospital with a chest wound.

Police said Mrs. Cleary ran from the couple's house to a neighbor's home after Delago shot and wounded her. With her were her four children by previous marriages.

Neighbors reported hearing a second shot after Mrs. Cleary left the house, and police found Delago's body sprawled upon the kitchen floor of the disheveled house.

According to Daly City Police Officer Russell Cunningham, the couple had been engaged in a violent argument for several hours prior to the shooting.

The four children, ages 14, 13, 9 and 7, were in the house when Mrs. Cleary was shot.

A deputy coroner at the shooting scene said Delago appeared to be about 40 to 45 years old.

Coast Dance Permit Shift Is Opposed

Pacifica's police chief and recreation director have recommended against adoption of a church group's proposal to change administration of dance permits in the city from police jurisdiction to the recreation department.

A jointly signed letter to the council from Police Chief Neil Tremaine and Recreation Director Eldred Lokker this week said such a move "would be contrary to established and accepted policy," and is not recommended by either department head.

The "Church and Society Committee" from St. Andrew's United Presbyterian Church recommended removing administration of the teen-age dance permits from the police department's control several months ago following the youth disturbances at Linda Mar Shopping Center.

Chief Tremaine's department came under considerable criticism from youth factions following the shopping center riot, and church officials apparently felt removing control of dances from the police would result in a "lesening of tension."

However, in their letter to the council, Tremaine and Lokker indicated they both feel the police department is the "logical agency" for handling dance permits.

"Inasmuch as the theory of the dance permit is to insure an orderly and properly conducted dance under the peace disturbance, welfare and general conduct statutes of city and state law, most cities find the police department the logical agency for administering these permits," the letter states.

"If police permits are not deemed necessary, it would follow that regulation of public dances would not be necessary."

If the church committee's recommendation was adopted, "one of the city's health and safety functions would be assigned to the recreation department," the department heads stated.

New CD Aide For Bruno, SSF Backed

San Bruno's City Council Monday night approved of City Manager Gerard Vergeer's request to hire an assistant civil defense director in conjunction with South San Francisco.

Vergeer, in outlining his proposal, admitted a possible candidate for the job has been found.

He said the person named to the position would work a half day in each city, at a pay rate of $4 an hour, and "at the pleasure" of the city managers and city councils involved.

Vergeer explained that though San Bruno has the funds in the budget for the post, he would seek personnel administrator funds from Civil Defense to help offset costs.

One councilman wanted to know "for how long" he thought the post would exist

"As far as I'm concerned," Vergeer explained, "why, forever. As far as I'm concerned it would be a permanent arrangement, if it works out to the satisfaction of both cities.

Speaking of recruitment, Vergeer disclosed, "We've already gone that far."

He said that "between us we had about half a dozen applicants, and I've selected one as the ideal person."

Vergeer did not disclose his "selection."

The council also gave its support to a federal summer public administration internship program, which at a cost of about $600 to the city, would be "less than we've been paying our own summer interns," City Manager Vergeer pointed out.

Vergeer admitted he didn't know if anyone was available.

City Councilman Maurice Hamilton favored the proposal.

"I feel in line with the civil defense position, Gerry's been doing all the work and unlike many cities our size, we haven't given him any assistance. He's just got too much work to do, frankly."

place where the narcotics were.

She returned to her own apartment, but got to thinking about the incident and called n Bruno police.

A later check of apartment 3 disclosed that the two men apparently had removed a portable television set, a .22-caliber rifle and a man's coat.

Entry into both apartments, police said, appeared to have been gained by twisting the door knobs until they broke.

One suspect was described as in his twenties, six feet tall, having brown hair and wearing a brown coat.

The other man was in his early thirties, heavyset, five-feet, 11-inches tall, with brown hair, and wearing a brown jacket and brown pants.

council should desist from any further committees being appointed which comprise only two councilmen," Kelting declared.

He urged them to follow the pattern that an assistant district attorney has advised the County Board of Supervisors:

"They should hold all committee meetings open to the public."

Kelting went on to say, "We feel this same courtesy should be given the citizens of San Bruno."

He said if the council insisted on their policy of appointing its own committees, the number should be expanded to three—which would be a quorum, "opening the meetings to the public."

Kelting said the original garbage contract has been amended three times in the past 10 years and "actually not in the best interest of the public."

He charged that no hearings were held on the contract amendments, "and does not show good faith with the people."

The rate hike last year was granted the San Bruno Garbage Company on the basis of increased labor costs.

The current request stems from a hike in the garbage company's operations, resulting from closure of dumpgrounds in South San Francisco and the need to travel to Brisbane to dump the garbage.

A spokesman for the garbage firm pointed out that "every book, every record that was requested by a committee that was appointed in each instance was turned over to the representatives."

"The return of the garbage company has been fair," the spokesman asserted.

He said the company was faced with "circumstances over which it had no control."

in an attempt to obtain service, McDonald said, "and I was the only operator interested."

The proposed new ordinance was first drafted several weeks ago when another firm, Federal Ambulance Company of San Francisco, applied for a license to operate in Daly City.

Harold Martin, an attorney representing McDonald, said city officials have refused to discuss their reasons for the new regulations, and said City Attorney Al Polonsky refused to say who requested that the present ordinance be changed.

"It looks like a squeeze play on the part of somebody," Martin said.

Jeff Elementary Board Asks Free Lunch Guides

Trustees of Daly City's Jefferson Elementary School District last week ordered administrators to prepare "definite policy guidelines" for the distribution of free school lunches to needy children.

Board members tabled Assistant Supt. Roger Barthuli's recommendation that the existing policy pertaining to the free lunch program be approved for another year, stating that the guidelines are "to vague."

According to Barthuli, "any child not capable of paying for his own lunch is entitled to a free lunch" under the existing policy.

Determination of need is presently left in the hands of principals, nurses and dieticians at the district's 21 schools, the assistant superintendent said.

Family situations and other pertinent information is checked through the county welfare department, he said.

Barthuli expressed fears that some needy children "may not receive lunches" if guidelines for the program are made too inflexible.

Mrs. Dorothy Adams, a district parents, told board members P-TA groups have recently discussed the issue of whether "children whose parents will not provide money for their lunches or not as needy as those who cannot provide it."

Trustees agreed that there is a "serious question" in this area, but pointed to rising cost of the free lunch program.

Approximately $1,800 was spent on lunches for the district's needy children during the September-October period, and $1,200 during the November-December period.

The program is financed through a special and separate tax levy, and funds do not come from the district's regular operating budget.

Barthuli was instructed to prepare a "more detailed policy" on the matter for consideration at the next regular board meeting.

In other business Tuesday, trustees adopted several resolutions necessary to order a school board election April 15.

Three board seats will be filled in the election.

Deadline for candidate applications is February 20.

Trustees officially confirmed the appointment of James Cranna to the dsitrict Merit Personnel Commission, and announced that state officials in Sacramento to have also confirmed the appointment.

Permission was given the administrative staff for disposal of three trucks and an automobile owned by the district, but no longer used. The vehicles will be sold at public auction.

Slope stabilzation and landscape projects completed at several district schools by the Joseph Kaplan firm were approved and accepted, and the board approved the administration's application for 37,827 in Title II funds.

D.C. Teacher Sues to Get Job Back in Racial Dispute

A Daly City high school teacher who was demoted for allegedly helping write a "racially inflammatory" letter filed suit in Superior Court Wednesday demanding reinstatement.

The teacher, Richard Boyd, contends in the lawsuit that his dismissal as head of the physical education department at Jefferson High School last June 10 was illegal. He states that the reason given for the demotion — his alleged involvement with the letter — was insufficient and that he could legally be dismissed only for unsatisfactory service.

The letter, signed by three students — Frank Palma, Lou Matteucci and Leighton Ahpo — was sent to Edward D. Morgan, district superintendent, last February 25. It stated that racial tension was mounting at the school and that the letter was an attempt to prevent an "uncontrollable situation." It blamed "certain Negro reactionaries" for incidents of trouble at the school and suggested that a meeting be called to "prevent any possible serious situation and pave the way for better Negro-Caucasian relations here at Jefferson."

On March 6 Ernest Ribera, who was principal at that time, asked Morgan to reassign Boyd on the grounds that he counseled the students in writing the letter, which Ribera labeled "racially inflammatory."

"Because of this," Ribera wrote to Morgan, "I have lost complete faith in Mr. Boyd's judgement in matters pertaining to students where such matters might result in a racial situation."

Ribera said Boyd had also expressed a lack of confidence in the administration's handling of racial problems, and had failed to go through proper channels.

Morgan assigned Boyd to a teaching position at Serramonte High School.

Boyd contends in the suit that his dismissal as department head was illegal in that it was made solely because of the letter without reference to his performance as department head, Ribera, the suit states, had rated Boyd's performance as satisfactory. The lawsuit maintains that the dismissal could only be based on unsatisfactory service. It asks the court to order Morgan to reinstate him or to show cause in court why not.

SSF Playhouse Is Destroyed

The Robert Woods family in South San Francisco, lost a large children's playhouse Wednesday when fire of undetermined origin razed the structure in the backyard of 208 Clifton Drive.

South San Francisco firemen said flames flicked into the night sky higher than the Woods' residence.

Arriving at 12:35 a.m., the firemen — though unable to save the wood playhouse — did keep the fire from spreading to the home.

CANINE SAVES WOMAN

A San Bruno housewife was saved from a would be rapist Thursday night by the family dog.

Police said a young Negro man entered the unlocked garage of a residence in the Crestmoor area about 9 p.m. Thursday, and accosted a 31-year-old woman in the kitchen of the home.

As the woman struggled with her attacker, her dog entered the fray and bit the intruder upon the leg.

The man ran from the house, police said, with the dog in pursuit.

The woman was not harmed.

North County Banks Issuing Vehicle Tabs

Citizens of Daly City and Pacifica were reminded that 1969 auto license plate stickers are "as close as your neighborhood bank."

The reminder came from Department of Motor Vehicles director Verne Orr who said DMV clerks are offering renewal service at a counter at Crocker-Citizens Bank, 135 Serramonte Center, Daly City, Wells Fargo Bank, 1450 Linda Mar Center, Pacifica, and the Wells Fargo branch at Stonestown.

The counter is open during regular banking hours, through February 4.

Orr cautioned that DMV clerks at banks are able to handle only routine transactions. "They will take your fee and the registration card which we mailed to you," he said, and hand you a license plate sticker and the stamped card stub which is your evidence of registration for the year.

"Anyone needing a special computation or adjustment should call at a regular DMV office or visit the auto club of which he is a member."

Boat registration renewals are available only at DMV offices — not at banks.

Orr urged the public to avoid delays by coming in before long lines form during the final pre-deadline rush.

Additional Title For DC Banker

Frank J. Macchia, manager of First Western Bank's Westlake Office in Daly City, has been given the additional title of Assistant Vice President and Manager, according to an announcement made by Robert L. Mossburg, Regional Vice President.

Macchia joined First Western in 1960, and is a charter member of the Bank's Presidents Club, an organization designed to honor those bank officers who perform outstandingly in the field of business development.

THE PENNEY STORY
Why make such a big deal out of quality?
By ROBERTA NASH
I asked a Penney store manager the question once and when he finally decided I was serious, he said, "If I could use only one word to describe the phenomenon of Penney's, I'd pick the word, quality.
"Mr. Penney has always been a fanatic on the subject," he continued. "They say the only thing that still makes Mr. Penney angry is when someone suggests we compromise Penney quality to make a lower price."

FIRST SAN MATEO COUNTY Youth council took up its job Thursday with an organization meeting at the County Fair board room. Supervisor Jim Fitzgerald is shown opening the meeting and instructing the youth representatives from all parts of the county on their duties and responsibilities. A general discussion and report on what the county means to them by each student followed the introduction. (Post Photo)

Youth Group Is Created

The county board of supervisors Thursday officially created a county Young Advisory Commission.

The board unanimously passed a resolution creating the commission and setting up its organization.

Under provisions of the resolution, each public and private high school in the county is allowed one representative on the commission, and each high school district is entitled to a minimum of five representatives.

Superintendents of individual high school districts will nominate commissioners, who will be officially appointed by supervisors. The commission will cease to exist after one year unless the county board takes action to continue its existence.

Two Women Face Welfare Fraud Trial

Trial is pending for two welfare recipients on charges of fraud.

Mrs. Jean Romero, 24, of 543 Manor Drive, Pacifica, has pleaded not guilty to charges that she failed to report income earned as an assembler in a South San Francisco factory, resulting in an overpayment of $80 in welfare aid. Trial is scheduled for January 29.

Mrs. Hazel Vaughn, 39, of 370 Hamilton Avenue, Menlo Park, is scheduled to stand trial March 20 on charges that she failed to report the presence of a man in her home for eight months of the past year, during a time she was receiving welfare aid for herself and seven children. The alleged fraud, the district attorney's office charged, resulted in an overpayment of $1,444 in welfare funds.

The celebration was held in the Youth Room of the San Francisco Central Adventist Church. Distinguished guests were Elder R. W. Engstrom and Elder P. H. Green Valley Is Studied

In whose sphere of influence Green Valley should be — Half Moon Bay's or Pacifica's — will be the only issue before the county Local Agency Formation Commission January 15, with no stands to be taken on possible annexations, the Half Moon Bay city council declared last night.

A letter has been received from the Kings Mountain Association asking that its area, bounded by the Skyline Water District, be left out of the proposed Half Moon Bay sphere of influence. This would be best discussed at a LAFC meeting, the council decided, and later.

"I wouldn't want to amend (our present map) in any way so as not to jeopardize our chances," Councilwoman Dolores Pompati said about the city's efforts to prevent Green Valley from falling into Pacifica's sphere.

Half Moon Bay has been quite touchy about Green Valley since plans to make it a large north county dump were announced last year, since the valley is south of Devil's Slide and is felt to be in the Half Moon Bay drainage basin.

So is Kings Mountain but that would only confuse the issue, now, it was felt, and cause more delay in getting the Green Valley matter settled.

Also decided last night was a letter to be sent to all concerned agencies that no positions on annexations will be taken by the city in connection with the Green Valley issue.

The reasoning here, after considerable discussion, was that this too might cause delay. Some residents north of the city are becoming impatient about putting off of their annexation proposals to LAFC.

2 North County Students Are Arrested at SF State

Two former College of San Mateo students who were in the lead of militant activity on that campus have been arrested for disturbances at San Francisco State College.

Ralph Ruiz of South San Francisco and Isidro Gali, a former Half Moon Bay police officer, were carted off to jail after picket line activity for the Third World Liberation Front.

Both men told reporters they had demonstrated at San Francisco State after dropping out at College of San Mateo because of lack of funds.

Ruiz claimed that he had been beaten in the patrol wagon by four plainclothesmen while being removed from the campus. He displayed a bandaged forehead and a cut nose and a welt on his back.

Gali said he also had been beaten but did not display any bruises.

The stories of the two militants were discounted by Deputy Police Chief Al Nelder who said police reports did not substantiate their version of the arrest.

Colonel Kills Self

A man identified as Leonard Barrett, a retired Army colonel, shot and killed himself in his Atherton home, 22 Flood Circle, yesterday, police reported.

Mrs. Barrett called the police department shortly before 11 a.m. to report the incident. Police and the coroner's office were investigating.

ONIONS

Oregon's onion production is valued at about $5 million a year.

Allocation To Crusade Agencies Here

United Bay Area Crusade funds to San Mateo County agencies were announced today by UBAC President Benjamin F. Biaggini.

The Family Service Agency will receive $66,708; San Mateo County Council Boy Scouts $125,000; Children's Health Home $40,730; Cerebral Palsy $32,000; Boys' Club of San Mateo $25,500; South San Francisco Boys' Club $24,866; Herbert Hoover Boys' Club, East Menlo Park, $22,808; Mental Health Association $37,000; Legal Aid $10,800; Volunteer Bureau $16,976; Sequoia YMCA $48,731.

There are 39 agencies operating in San Mateo County but many receive their funds on a five-county allotment basis, such as the Red Cross; Girl Scouts, Catholic & Jewish Social Service; Children's Home Society and others serving poverty and population growth areas.

This year the Crusade's 178 agencies will receive a total $12,615,801 representing an increase of $677,000 in new money for them over last year. They will also receive $75,000 in special summer programs.

"The campaign and operating expenses are still less than 10 per cent of the total amount raised, a figure of which we are justly proud," Biaggini said.

WARMING

An offshoot of the Gulf Stream warms Norway's coast year-round, enabling most inlets to stay ice free, even though they are on the same latitude as Siberia and southern Greenland.

YWCA Offering New Courses

"A new year brings the urge for new interests and activities, and the San Mateo YWCA offers a bright new program, with activies beginning," said Mrs. Collins Orton, management committee chairman.

"You may enroll for a class or classes, become a member of a special interest group or enlist as a volunteer for Y committee work," she said.

New additions to Y adult programming this quarter are a Great Decisions discussion group, drawing and painting, cake decorating, ballroom and discotheque dancing, Y's way trimastics, yoga, organ lessons, horseback riding and a self-improvement workshop.

The YWCA will continue to offer adult classes during the winter session as follows: Chinese brush painting, bridge, guitar, Chinese cooking, investments, Polynesian dances, photography, golf, tennis and a bridge club.

Adult classes are open to both men and women and to teen-agers 15 and over. Membership, at a modest amount, is required for participation. Classes are designed to offer quality instructors and a limited number of participants to insure personal attention.

Teen and junior activities include self-improvement, tennis, ballet, guitar, organ and piano lessons, and the YWCA Judo club for girls at the Colma Intermediate school.

For the pre-school girl or boy, there are still a few openings in the Widget World Nursery program, and classes available in creative group play, arts and crafts and ballet.

Phone or come in to the Y office, 37 South Mayfair, Daly City, for additional information, brochures and to register.

Ct. St. Mary Sets Social

Court St. Mary 1155, Catholic Daughters of America, will hold its monthly social on Thursday at 8 p.m. at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Hall, 80 Wellington Avenue, Daly City.

Mrs. Stephen Milici is chairman.

James Flanagan, chairman of Marian visiting for San Mateo County, will be guest speaker. Members and friends, including men, interested in the Marian visiting program are invited.

Later in the evening leper bandages will be rolled out of clean used sheets.

Persons who have discarded clean sheets are asked to donate them for this project, and to contact Grand Regent Mrs. Alois Palen for pickup.

Court St. Mary invites women interested in joining the Catholic Daughters of America also to contact Mrs. Palen.

Salads Are 'In' And Here to Stay

GOOD MORNING, good cooks.

There was a time when salads, especially molded salads, were considered ladies' fare, just right for luncheons, frilly buffets and such, but not for hearty, man-type meals.

Times change, fashions change, and eating habits change also. Salads are "in" and here to stay. From the tossed salad, with it's limitless varieties — you can toss most anything into it, and some cooks do, to the eye-appealing and taste-appealing molds with their color and texture interest, salads are an important part of our menu.

Lettuce, cabbage, spinach and all sorts of greens combine to make the tossed salad. Tomatoes, cucumbers, celery, kidney beans, green beans, in fact most any vegetable can add it's color and goodness to our salads.

Remember to wash your salad greens carefully, remove bruised leaves and discard. Be sure to try the greens before you use them, for the water clinging to the leaves will make your dressing watery.

Chill all the ingredients for your salad including the bowl and serving plates. And don't add the dressing until you are ready to serve.

Salad dressings are mighty easy to come by these days, it's a simple matter to dash to the store and buy one of the many prepared varieties. Or the type where one adds water, oil and vinegar. But most of us just grab a bowl and toss in oil, vinegar, salt and whatever seasonings our little hearts (or taste buds) desire. Here is a basic dressing, these quantitise make one cup.

BASIC DRESSING

¾ cup oil
¼ cup vinegar or lemon juice
6 salt and pepper to taste

Combine the three-fourths cup oil, one-fourth cup vinegar or lemon juice and the salt and pepper, blend well.

1 can crushed pineapple (eight and three-fourths

A GELATIN MOLD can sometimes work the miracle of making children (who frequently avoid vegetables) eat them with pleasure. Well, let's be honest, if not with pleasure, at least with the minimum amount of complaints.

This very easy salad is an old favorite which will disguise carrots in an attractive manner, and tastes good, too.

GOLDEN GLOW SALAD

1 package lemon gelatin
1½ cups boiling water ounces)
1 cup grated raw carrots

Dissolve the gelatin in the one and one-half cups boiling water. Add the undrained can of crushed pineapple. Chill until thick, then fold in the one cup grated carrots. Pour into individual molds and refrigerate. Unmold onto shredded lettuce to serve. Makes six molds.

HERE'S A BARGAIN — two recipes in one. This coleslaw makes a delicious mold, too. My friend, Mrs. Ceil Collin, gave me this recipe years ago and it's time to remind you good cooks to give it a try.

TWO-WAY SALAD

¼ cup sour cream
¼ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup lemon juice
2 Tbsp. sugar
½ teaspoon dry mustard
Salt and pepper to taste
4 cups shredded lettuce
1 Tbsp. minced onion

Combine the one-fourth cup each sour cream, mayonnaise and lemon juice. Add the two tablespoons sugar, one-half teaspoon dry mustard and salt and pepper. Gently toss the four cups shredded lettuce and one tablespoon minced onion with dressing. Chill and serve. Makes four servings.

MOLDED COLESLAW SALAD

1 pkg. lime or lemon gelatin
1¾ cup hot water
1 tablespoon vinegar

Dissolve the one package gelatin in the one and three-fourths cup hot water, add the one tablespoon vinegar. Cool until slightly thickened. Add half the cole slaw recipe to this mixture and pour into mold or individual molds. Chill, unmold onto shredded lettuce and serve with this sour cream dressing!

SOUR CREAM DRESSING

1 small tub sour cream, 8 ounces
1 glass Roka cheese
1 glass mayonnaise (cheese glass)
garlic salt, if desired

Combine the eight ounces sour cream with the glass each of Roka cheese and mayonnaise. Add garlic salt, if desired. Beat at medium speed in mixer until well blended. Cover and refrigerate.

WHEN I STARTED this week's column I hadn't intended to do a whole thing on salads, but sometimes I get so interested in the subject that I keep looking up more and more recipes. And on checking past recipes I ran across this different and delicious use of tuna and apples in a salad.

Since both of these items are great favorites of mine, and I hope of yours too, I heartily recommend this salad to you good cooks.

APPLE-TUNA TOSS

1 med. head lettuce torn into bite-size pieces (four cups)
2 cups sliced apples, unpeeled
1 can mandarin orange slices, 11-oz. size
1 can tuna, drained
½ cup nutmeats, broken
½ cup mayonnaise
2 teaspoons soy sauce
1 teaspoon lemon juice

In a large salad bowl combine the four cups broken lettuce, two cups apples, one can mandarin orange slices, one can tuna and one-half cup nut meats, toss together.

Combine the one-half cup mayonnaise, two teaspoons soy sauce and one teaspoon lemon juice.

To serve add dressing to salad, toss gently. Make four to six servings.

WAGE BATTLE — Left to right, Doris Korn, Sue Pratt and Jean Ratto are among those currently engaged in Westmoor posture and exercise class "battle of the bulge."

Westmoor Girls 'Battling the Bulge'

The battle of the bulge is raging at Westmoor High.

Facing banishment by girls enrolled in Mrs Lynn Knecht's and Mrs. Kathy Krolick's new Posture and Exercise classes, founded shoulders, low chests, and excess weight and other postural deviations are the objects of intensive work.

By setting weight and measurement goals, girls in the Posture and Exercise classes have taken the first step toward ridding themselves of unsightly weight and poor posture. Each week the students "weigh in" and note any weight changes. The weight charts are threatening the existence of excess weight as they encourage the girls to do conscientious exercising.

Music is also used as an ally in the war against weak arms and flabby muscles. Exercises done to music are enjoyable, and the girls like trimming inches away to a popular melody.

Discussions pertaining to the proper selection of shoes, and exercises to help strengthen the arch are also part of the Posture and Exercise course. Healthy, happy feet are the ultimate goal and end result.

The Posture and Exercise course is new this year, but judging from the girls' enthusiasm towards the class, it will be offered next year and the battle of the bulge will continue.

The club's Clothes Closet project needs volunteer workers and usable children's clothing. It is open every second and fourth Thursday, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. reminds Mrs. Fred Ingle, chairman.

TERRA NOVA TOPICS . . .

By Alice Reichert

Nicki Cruz, who is connected with the Outreach for Youth Program, will be at Terra Nova next January 21, to speak to the student body.

Cruz was president of the Mau Mau gang in New York, involved with drugs and crime. Having met a minister, David Wilkins, he gave up his "bad life", and is now donating his time to helping kids and keeping them from the life he once led.

The Executive Board had made a suggestion that Terra Nova students start a petition asking for more money for the Jefferson Union High School District. Who says high school kids are unconcerned with school affairs?

There will be no assembly for spring semester election speeches this year.

Other than the fact that the speeches often sound very much alike, lasting long and drying out before the midpoint, past conduct at such assemblies has shown that little attention is paid to the speakers.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By DONALD C. WAITE

A PLACE IN YOUR HOME JUST FOR YOU

The den, garage and back yard are a man's domain. Attics and basements belong to the children. Family rooms, living rooms and bathrooms are shared with the whole family. That leaves the woman of the home practically roomless, save for the kitchen.

Do you, or do you not deserve one special, private place of your very own? Can you, or can you not take time out for a gracious respite: a time to gather your thoughts, listen to music, read or write letters to friends.

It IS possible, and so easy to create a special spot for you.

To achieve such a spot, you can take even a corner, a recess or a bay but much will depend on the way you decorate it. Consider your choice of fabric (maybe velvets or silks), colors (such as rouge reds and powder blues), furniture (comfortable and romantic) and accessories (fresh flowers, for example).

It will help you create this spot if you give it some definition of personal privacy. This can be accomplished by such simple devices as louvered folding doors that can enclose your area, a paneled screen set up simply to demarcate a place of your own, an Austrian shade, secured to the ceiling, that flutters down on cue to conceal the place beyond. We can help you furnish this spot or any spot in your home. Come on in.

Some of the 'Action' At S.F. State Campus

A WARY policeman regards demonstrators at San Francisco State College yesterday as they fill the air with epithets and phrases. In center, one student strikes a "thinker" pose as he regards the scene. (Post Photo)

A TV PHOTOGRAPHER was one victim of the violence at S.F. State. Assisted by First Aid Corpsmen, he holds bandage and hand to bloody forehead.

AMONG THE demonstrators at S.F. State late last week was this self-termed Hopi Indian, who was photographed holding a newspaper and a bottle in his hand, as he placed an Indian curse on police officers.

Ignores Warnings

(FRANK LAPIERRE is ill. This week's contribution is by Daly City businessman Jim Grealish, who offers his comments and observations on a number of topics. — Editor.)

DESPITE the warnings of many well-intentioned friends, "Don't send a boy on a man's job," "fools rush in where angels fear to tread," etc.,

Thus, I take my pen in hand. . . .

The first impression one received upon visiting Frank LaPierre at Franklin Hospital is that he has a new hobby, Grafitti. Closer examination reveals that what at first appears to be a room divider with a variety of inscriptions thereon, is in reality the largest three-fold get well card ever seen.

Sent to Frank by his fellow members of the Baccala Club, Daly City, U.S.A., it contains many expressions of feelings for Frank and his condition, some of which would never survive the editor's scissors if an attempt were made to publish them in this column.

However, all were directed toward a common goal, "Get well soon, Frank."

"SIRIANNI Goes to Miami" could well be the name of an Italian movie, but instead it's the good news that Joe Sirianni, assistant superintendent of grounds at the Olympic Club at Lakeside, will represent the Club at the annual meeting of Golf Course Superintendents of America in Jackie Gleason's favorite city from January 19 to 24.

THEN THERE was the story of the "circuit riders" who invaded Westlake Joe's disguised as interior decorators. While installing Christmas Decorations they almost short-circuited half of Westlake.

"YOUTH IN ACTION" — One of the less publicized teen-age activities — was the Westmoor High School clothing and canned food drive before Christmas. Both drives were won by the senior class, with president Rick Knoblach leading the way. The clothing was donated to Goodwill while the 680 cans of food were donated to the Daly City "Operation Santa Claus" drive for needy families.

"PEERLESS Predictions Without LaPierre" — Look for a new word in the local vocabulary during the coming months, "BARO." This is an abbreviation of Bay Area Regional Organization, which will appear more and more in the news during the coming months as the Joint Committee on Bay Area Regional Organization makes its presence felt more.

The committee will continue onward toward the target date of being in operation, January 1, 1871.

"PROUD PENINSULANS" — The selection of, and acceptance by David Packard as Deputy Secretary of Defense brings a glow of pride to many Peninsula citizens and a great deal of prestige to the Nixon administration.

The fact that a business man, successful to the degree that Packard has attained, would accept this tremendously demanding job in Government is a bright ray of hope in the American way of life.

His statement that his country has done so much for him that he feels he should do something for his country, could well become the slogan for the coming four years. If every American citizen gave to the country in proportion to what he has received, wouldn't there be fewer problems to solve?

"SILENT MAJORITY TO SPEAK" — Look for the coming months to bring a more vocal response from the great many students and adults who have reached the breaking point in putting up with the vocal minority.

What's the SDS?

"DEAR SIR," a letter read, "what is the SDS? Where can we find some information about it?"

SDS is an organization known as Students for a Democratic Society. Originally it was formed as a student division of a socialist group known as the League for Industrial Democracy.

By 1962 SDS became an independent organization and held its first national convention. During the proceedngs Tom Hayden read a statement that has become a basic manifesto to SDS.

Hayden committed the organization to "change circumstances in the school, the work places, the bureaucracies, the government." Other leaders called "for actions not discussions."

TODAY, SDS is a loosely formed organization of 35,000 young people on at least 250 campuses. It has participated in nearly every student uprising the country has known since 1962.

SDS is active in the current crisis at San Francisco State College.

During the December confrontation at San Mateo Junior College, the SDS published a statement that convinced many readers that the best thing SDS could do is encourage its members to spend more time in English classes.

Part of the statement contained words that have become the hue and cry with SDS groups.

"It has become apparent to us that the 'educational system' is fast becoming merely a training program for future members of the Status Quo. This is made continually obvious by the fact that the persons who design our classes, select our instructors, and make the rules under which we function are the very ones who are benefiting from the continuation of the system AS IT IS . . . "

MEANWHILE an SDS member at San Francisco State College declared, "We are opposed to both the Democrotic and the Republican parties. They are not going to change anything."

SDS is committed to change. Its members say they are fighting to rid the U.S. of "racism, militarism and imperialism." They call for placing more power in the hands of the students.

Thus the San Mateo statement read, "WE, the students, THE PEOPLE, MUST be allowed to determine our own futures in order to determine and to design a more perfect world, and until we can do so, we are not free."

A reporter for New Republic magazine found four groups present at the SDS convention of June 9-15, 1968. One faction was composed of moderates who want to fight the establishment. At the convention they were unorganized and ineffective. Another group was the National Office contingent who had no line except a desire to centralize the SDS.

A THIRD group consisted of anarchists, informally led by off-campus chapters of the Students for a Democratic Society. Many of this group spoke of more violence to achieve desired goals.

The fourth group represented the Progressive Labor Party. The New Republic report called this group Peking oriented and disciplined with a clear ideological line. The author said that this group is active in SDS, "because it sees the SDS as a recruiting ground for new members."

'Now' Generation Takes Over Arts

The "now" generation who believes in "telling it like it is," has completely taken over the arts. And most of the consumer trade, influencing styles, language, advertising copy, prices and quality.

Cheap is in. The hippie philosophy of giving away one's possessions has caught on to those more retentive, conservative people who have changed their thinking on long range payment plans to a less selfish attitude of sharing. Buy it, use it and give it away to someone is today's gimmick for social acceptance.

Most people felt left behind when the Beatles, rock music, hippie culture and the sexual revolution took over the world. Many of them have caught up and joined the youthquake. Try buying a dress with a long hemline. Or listening to the radio and not getting the new sound on 9 out of 10 stations. Psychedelia is everywhere, from magazine formats, to store windows, to wrapping paper, films, decor and advertising. There is no escape, and no reason to want to.

MUSIC HAS BECOME A NEWS MEDIA. Ideas are being transmitted through every new single record, and not the old "love in June" bit. There are messages in pop tunes which young people understand and laugh at. Instant communication is carried over into every phase of living and what happens now is digested, and forgotten in the same moment. Because tomorrow, something equally important will occur and yesterday is left behind.

This month's Fortune magazine takes a broad look at the Youthquake and agrees that "the ascendency of rock, soul, country and western and other kid stuff in popular music has been a victory for the young without detectable loss to anyone else. Their music has enriched rather than replaced."

For all its harshness (all changes must be preceded by extreme departures), the new music also has a sweet, corny side. Mama Cass's "Dream A Little Dream Of Me," and the Beatles' "Yesterdays" are only two among popular recordings that could have come out of Tin Pan Alley 20 years ago.

No Upside Down Flag for Pacifica

Laguna Salada Elementary School District trustees in Pacifica adopted a motion last week quashing a proposal to fly the state flag upside down and "any other disruptive actions or displays on school property."

Board members, in a motion establishing official policy "on the general question of such actions on school property," prohibited "any display or action which would detract from the educational process in the district school."

The board policy further states that "it is understood that this board is legally responsible for all school property and the actions of staff members while they are on duty."

"It is further understood that before any display or action which might interfere with the educational process is instituted on school property, the board will be notified," the motion states, and trustees went on record opposing "any such action or display" in advance.

Though board membets and District Supt. Fred Lucas stated the motion was adopted as a "general and long-range policy," its obvious immediate effect will be to eliminate some of the "dramatic stunts" proposed by members of the School Finance Strategy Committee in their campaign to obtain additional state funds for the district schools.

The flag-flying proposal has divided the committee membership, and some community leaders, including school board member Stan Farber, the chamber of commerce board of directors and Jaycee representatives, have stated they "want nothing to do with a cheap stunt which will degrade the state flag."

However, at a committee meeting last week, members voted two-to-one to leave the matter to the discretion of individual school principals.

A directive from the superintendent's office last month reportedly suggested that principals fly the flag upside down on January 13 as a "distress signal."

In addition to the "flag stunt," school finance committee members also suggested that signs announcing "schools in distress" be posted at each of the campuses.

In light of the board's action Tuesday, these and similar proposals by the committee are now presumably "out."

The finance strategy committee, organized several weeks ago, is working for "equalization" of school districts in California to aid poorer districts, such as Laguna Salada.

The local committee is mailing out "information packets" to 172 other districts in the state classified as "low wealth" districts, and is attempting to organize a statewide campaign to influence the legislature to change the current pattern of school financing.

Members of the committee have announced plans to appear before the school board at the next regular meeting and request that a "teachers' holiday" be declared to give the staff an opportunity to join a trek to Sacramento.

The committee is planning to visit Sacramento and present the school district's plight "in person."

Franchising Warnings

THE NATIONAL Better Business Bureau released the following statement concerning the booming franchise business.

"Franchising over the past several years has made successful entrepreneurs of thousands of people but many others have become unwitting victims of fraud and deception.

"In its best sense, franchising has enabled many Americans with little capital and know-how to own their own business and realize a fair return on their investments after hard work.

"Under other conditions, it has been a brazen subterfuge, bristling with misleading gimmicks that lure the unwary investor into a trap and separate him from his money."

Better Business Bureaus continually remind prospective investors who are considering a franchise to thoroughly investigate before investing.

THEY WARN of offers advertising as high profit for "little work". The numerous cases in Bureau files show that too often such warnings are not heeded.

Thirty-two investors were bilked of $89,000 in a greeting card deal. The salesman had promised them up to $50 a day return on an investment of $2,400 in greeting cards and vending racks.

Another group of swindlers took in $75,000 through a merchandising scheme involving the installation of service racks of first aid suppliers in drug stores and other outlets.

Prospective distributors were asked to put up a $1,200 bond. Few received supplies and no one got their money back.

Twenty-two people are known to have paid a total of $41,000 for vending machines dispensing aspirin in a state which prohibits the sale of aspirin by machine. The salesman had promised profits of 80 percent.

TWO PROMOTERS fleeced an Indiana resident out of $15,000 in a radio-equipment deal. He had been led to believe he would get high-quality, high-performance equipment. The merchandise turned out to be shoddy and worth only a fraction of what he had paid. His was an "exclusive" franchise, but only because no one else in that area fell for the scheme.

Other investors wanting a business of their own paid as much as $936 for floor-waxing machines which were worth no more than $100.

Mieuli Not Giving Up!

THIS MAY NOT COME as a surprise to you, but just in case: Franklin Mieuli hasn't given up on reacquiring Rick Barry!

Having received reports that Barry didn't seem very enthused in Oakland, did, in fact, appear to be only going through the motions; and being the intensely competitive player he is, wasn't, it was further reported, exactly thrilled with the level of ABA competition, we called Mieuli last week and reported our findings.

Mieuli in turn reported that this is exactly what he had heard, and further predicted that if the Warriors didn't get Barry back through the courts (there are still appeals out), there is still hinted that Barry is a disillusioned young man.

"Rick," said Mieuli, "may be a part owner, but with the crowds they've been drawing, he's got 15 percent of nothing — of a minus, as a matter of fact.

"They made him a lot of promises, when he signed, and they haven't come through on one of them yet. For example, they told him they would get big radio and TV contracts. They're still forthcoming. They told him they would get top rate officials. They haven't yet.

"That first year they told him they (the league) were going to load up on NBA stars like Wilt Chamberlain, Clyde Lee, Lou Hudson, and a lot of others, but they didn't.

"WHEN RICK expressed his disappointment in these developments, they promised him that this year they would come up with the top college rookies. They guaranteed that the league would get Elvin Hayes and Wes Unseld. Again, they didn't come through.

"Any pro player or coach in the game will tell you that probably Rick's greatest asset is his ability to go top speed for the entire game. Most players play in spurts, but when Barry plays against top competition he's like a man possessed. He just doesn't let up.

"Over in Oakland he's playing in spurts, playing only as hard as he needs to make Oakland win. He's like a cat playing with a mouse. The competition in the ABA is so inferior to Rick's abilities that if he did go all out, he'd embarrass the other players. He'd make them look so bad he'd cause public relations problems.

"As a consequence, Barry is playing an unnatural game. I think he's an unhappy player."

We asked Mieuli if, when Barry looks like he might be weakening, he'd offer Rick a piece of the Warriors. Mieuli hurriedly answered, "No! But I'd give him a better contract than he has now."

AFTER THE BARRY situation was talked out, we asked Mieuli if he thought that Nate Thurmond was injury prone. This got a "are you putting me on?" chuckle from Mieuli. Obviously, Mieuli, who has seen his super-star out for extended periods of time now for the last three seasons, any one in which a healthy Nate might have brought a Warrior championship, suspects that Thurmond might be carrying a hex.

It would seem so. Other big men like Chamberlain and Bill Russell are older than Thurmond and are rarely out for even minutes, let alone entire games. Pound for pound, they certainly aren't any stronger or more rugged than Thurmond.

But Coach George Lee has a plausible theory for Thurmold's injury record as against Russell's and Chamberlain's.

Lee says that while Russell concentrates only on defense, and Chamberlain only on offense, that Thurmond plays both ends of the court with equal determination, and, therefore, going to the wall twice as often makes odds on his remaining healthy shorter, and also fatigues him more.

And the tired athlete is the one who is most prone to injury.

Mieuli, in fact, is beinning to think that the whole team is "snake-bit." He points out that the team has been so beset with injuries this year that if opposition coaches would have gotten technical about it, the Warriors would have had to forfeit a few games. There's an obscure NBA rule which states that a team must have eight eligible men suited up for a game. There have been times this year when the Warriors have had only seven

FORTUNATELY, THE Warriors do have a good bench. And, ironically, it's because of the numerous injuries. Players who would ordinarily have had no chance to grab that needed NBA experience have been thrown into the breech in desperation and have gotten the experience in the best possible way — under fire against enemy regulars rather than other bench warmers.

But there's always a bright side to things. The Lakers have been uncommonly healthy so far. Perhaps by the playoffs the Warriors will be out of the infirmary and Chamberlain will finally be injured, West will break his nose, Baylor will reinjure one of those knees . . .

NO SOONER DID we bat out last week's piece about there being, according to bowl game announcers, a minimum of 400-500 "all-Americans" in college football this year, than Hula Bowl color man Bud Wilkinson called Stanford's fine end, Gene Washington, "That great All-American." Aside from the word "great" being a redundancy, what else was wrong with the statement is that Washington — as good as he was — did not make even one honorable mention All-American team.

LOCAL NOTES: The starting five on Terra Nova's championship caliber frosh-soph court squad currently have the following scoring statistics: Dave Reynolds, 11.7 average points per game; Bob Petty, 10.8. Jeff Wellemeyer, 10.7, Ron Narley, 9.5, Chuck Reynolds, 9.2.

"That," says coach Bud Bresnahan, a former Tiger basketball star himself, "is what's known as balanced scoring."

Wellemeyer, incidentally, has a rebound average of 14.8, and in a recent game pulled 24 off the backboards. In abbreviated frosh-soph games, rebounding marks like that are almost unheard of.

As a team, the Tigers are averaging 53.4 points per game, another surprising figure for a frosh-soph squad. The lowest total they've been held to is 47.

College of San Mateo will be presenting its ninth annual Northern California Baseball Clinic this Saturday, starting time 8:45 and an outstanding program it will be.

Featured is former National League batting champion Harry "The Hat" Walker. The Houston manager will be talking about, naturally, hitting. He's acknowledged as one of the top teachers of hitting in the game. Also on the agenda will be John Oldham, former Cincinnati chattel (presently coach at San Jose JC) talking on pitching (and we can personally attest to the fact that he's one of the best), former Giant infielder Eddie Bressoud, (now coach at De Anza College) on shortstop play, and Don Edwards, baseball coach at UC Riverside, showing everybody how to bunt.

And finally, Pacifican Larry Hunt made the second Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic conference all-star water polo team and the second all-star water polo team and the second team and the second all-star NAIA water polo squad while splashing around for Cal Tech this past season.

A Collective Sigh Of Relief Noted

Six other North Peninsula League teams breathed a collective sigh of relief last Saturday night when the face-saving Jefferson Indians finished with the upstart visitors from San Francisco, Washington High School.

Coming south to the NPL Tourament with just eight players the Eagles had made a shambles of the first two teams they faced, South San Francisco and Terra Nova, before the Indians, now sporting an 11-0 record, were able to hang on securing a 46-42 victory and the tourney championship. It was the Indians' second tourney win of the year, they also won the El Camino Invitational, and left them still the only undefeated team on the Peninsula.

Third place in the NPL affair went to El Camino which edged Terra Nova, 52-49. The consolation championship was won by Westmoor over fading SSF, 65-55, while Oceana took seventh place with a 75-55 victory over Half Moon Bay.

Washington's sensational guard, Robert Taylor, headed the All-Tournament team selected by the coaches. Taylor, who scored 55 points in three games and passed with amazing deftness, received a standing ovation from the capacity audience at the SSF gymnasium.

Others selected to the star squad were: Washington, Denley Herbert; Jeff, Steve Kirby and Pinky Smith; SSF, Dick Young and Sam Kline; Westmoor, Mike Brown; Oceana, Chuck Smookler; Terra Nova, Bob Skog; El Camino, Frank Anderson.

It was Kirby's 10-footer from the right side with just 45 seconds left that gave the Indians the victory. Neither team held more than a five-point lead in the low-scoring contest and the game was tied eight times in the second half. Kirby's shot broke the final tie at 40-all and Smith added two charity shots to supplement the win.

Frank Anderson's 30 points (he totaled 69 in the series) powered resurging El Camino to third place with the win over Terra Nova. The Tigers, who had a slow three periods, suddenly exploded for 23 points in the last quarter to place the outcome momentarily in doubt. Bob Skog, the Tigers' rugged front-liner, scored 14 points from the inside to aid the losers.

Judo Tournament in D.C. Attracts 315 Contestants

That was the word meaning full point that was announced by the referees on four mats at Westmoor High School to indicate the winner of a Judo match at the Daly City Recreation Department's Third Annual Invitational Judo Tournament, directed by Ben Palacio.

There were 315 contestants from all over Northern and Central California. Over 40 different clubs and schools were represented, from as far north as Marysville, east to Reno, Nevada, and as far south as Salinas.

There were six United States National Junior Judo Champions, one United States High School Champion, and two United States Champions competing.

Trophies were awarded to the three top winners in each division including the midget division (youngsters, eight years old and under) and medals to the fourth and fifth place winners.

A recreation department spoksman said that perhaps the outstanding event of the day was an un-scheduled demonstration by T. Itoh, fifth degree black belt and the current National Seinor open division champion, who took on a line-up of eight black belt contestants, and threw them all with a variation of techniques in less than 10 minutes.

Mickey Corso of the recreation department, welcomed the contestants and officials of the Northern California Judo Black Belt Association. Mits Kimura, seventh degree black belt, and Duke Yoshimura, sixth degree black belt, complimented local leaders on the conduct of the tournament.

Sam Hamai, who is also the chairman of Junior Olympic Judo Development Committee of the A.A.U. and himself is a fifth degree black belt also commented, "Daly City is truly the City that knows how."

Sterilized Cream Market Competitor

Sterilized cream for whipping, a fresh dairy product with a guaranteed shelf life of six weeks, is proving to be a tough competitor for non-dairy whipping products, the Avoset Company reports.

The product's long shelf life is made possible through aseptic packaging, a process which involves sterilizing the cream and container separately and then putting them together under a germ-free environment. The process has enabled the Oakland, California-based firm to guarantee the long shelf life, three times that of regular whipping cream, and maintain the fresh taste of pasteurized cream.

Sterilized cream for whipping has proven so successful in the California market that many stores no longer stock regular whipping cream. Encouraged by the brisk sales and enthusiastic consumer reaction, Avoset has already developed plans for packaging other fresh dairy products.

The economic advantages of sterilized cream for whipping are obvious. By assuring a six-week shelf life for a fresh cream product, the dairy industry is better equipped to compete with the long shelf life of non-dairy products. Costly call-backs for spoiled cream are eliminated and over or understocking during peak seasonal demands are controllable, because the processor can order larger quantities without fear of spoilage. At the same time, the need to shut down high-speed milk production lines to make a small quantity of whipping cream is also eliminated.

But of even greater significance, negative experiences for Mrs. Homemaker with "turned" or sour cream are eliminated. Too often, spoiled whipping cream has caused the shopper to buy a non-dairy product even though she may prefer fresh cream. Sterilized cream for whipping eliminates this problem completely and the consumer can now buy two or three cartons of fresh cream at a time and safely store them in the convenience of the home refrigerator ready for any occasion. In addition, once opened, the cream will remain fresh for ten days under refrigeration, as compared to about five days for regular pasteurized cream.

Avoset first used glass containers for packaging sterilized cream for whipping, but are now using a specially designed Pure Pak carton. The new carton, designed to give greater protection to the product, has thicker paper and is foil lined. In addition, a hotter seal is applied to insure air tightness.

Sterilized cream for whipping is packaged at Avoset's Gustine, California, plant for several private labels, including Anderson, Arden, Carnation, Cash and Carry, Foremost, Lucerne, Model, Meadow Gold, Spreckels and Marin Dell.

In addition to the domestic market, Avoset's products are supplied to the military and sold abroad in 42 countries. Avoset is a subsidiary of Smith Kline & French Laboratories, Philadelphia, manufacturers of prescription medicines and other health related products.

MINCED CREAM SPICE CAKE

FRIED CREAM WITH FRUIT SAUCE

Seasoned Flour Tip

Many recipes call for seasoned flour, so homemakers ghen go to their store trying to find it! Seasoned flour is usually flour with salt and pepper added to it. Occasionally the recipe calls for an herb added to the flour.

The amount of flour, followed by specific amounts of salt and pepper required, are usually listed in the meat recipe. This, then, is the seasoned flour which is needed for dredging (dipping) the meat before browning. In other words, she makes it. She doesn't buy it.

Breakfast Menu Change

Breakfast menus don't have to conform to a rigid pattern if these don't interest the family.

There's nothing wrong with giving the teen-ager a hamburger or hot dog with a glass of fruit juice for breakfast. Perhaps Dad would like to start with sliced oranges followed by creamed dried beef on an English muffin with his coffee.

Why not coax a laggard morning appetite with a petite or sandwich steak placed on buttered rye toast or pork sausages in a long roll along with apple or applesauce as the fruit?

Serve Men Robust, Man-Pleasing Meals

When you're entertaining men — and that includes all the hearty-appetite group from almost-teenagers to grandpas — the secret of success is to serve robust, man-pleasing meals. So when your weekend or holiday contingent of visitors includes college fellows or fathers- and brothers-in-law, not to mention the man of the house of course, you can thank your lucky cooking stars for recipes like this one for Oyster-Stuffed Steaks.

Always man-approved cube steaks are wrapped around a well-seasoned bread filling in which oysters are the extra-special ingredient. The stuffing is simple to prepare; and once the steaks are rolled, it's a snap to brown and cook them to perfection in your frypan. The juice that's left in the pan will help you make a delicious brown gravy, too. And what man doesn't like that!

With the Oyster-Stuffed Steaks, French fried potatoes will be especially welcome. Using the frozen kind — either straight-cut or crinkle-cut — will save you much kitchen labor and make it simple to prepare enough for the heartiest eaters at your table. Tossed green salads are must-serve accompaniments to this sort of meal, and be sure to let the "boys" have a choice of dressing.

Then, if your gentlemen guests are going to be around a while, it would be a good idea to lay in a supply of frozen fried fish sticks alongside the French fries in your freezer. These are dandy for the fish and chips lunches that are becoming more and more popular, especially with the youngsters who can also "do it themselves." Yes, ma'am; you can't help but please your male guests if you keep the galley stocked with such fisherman's fare — a secret your teen-age daughter might like to keep in mind, too.

OYSTER-STUFFED STEAKS

1 cup (8 oz.) oysters, fresh or frozen
1½ cups soft white bread crumbs
¼ cup chopped green onion
¼ cup chopped parsley
¼ cup butter, melted
1 tablespoon freshly squeezed lemon juice
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon liquid pepper sauce
6 cube steaks
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup water

Thaw frozen oysters. Drain oysters, reserving liquor. Combine oysters, liquor from oysters, bread crumbs, onion and parsley; toss lightly. Mix together butter, lemon juice, salt and pepper sauce. Add to oyster mixture; mix lightly but thoroughly. Season steaks with salt and pepper. Place about ¼ cup oyster stuffing on each steak. Wrap steaks around stuffing and secure with wooden picks. In frypan, brown rolled-up steaks on all sides in hot butter — about 10 minutes. Lower heat and cook, covered, 5 minutes. Remove steaks to warm platter. Add water to pan; heat, stirring and scraping bottom of pan, to make pan gravy. Serve over steaks. Makes 6 servings.

MPL ROUNDUP

Panthers May Be Ready For Second Trophy

By JOHN HORGAN
Post Sports Writer

There is an aging, tarnished and dust-covered trophy reclining in the Burlingame High School trophy case just outside the Panthers' men's gymnasium.

It is a solitary remembrance of the school's one and only varsity basketball title which was won a dozen seasons ago in 1957.

Last Friday the 1969 unit took a giant step towards a second crown by downing strong Aragon, 55-52, in a crucial Mid-Peninsula League test which had all the overtones of a championship game.

In other MPL contests, Hillsdale put down Capuchino, 64-54, and San Mateo nipped Mills, 64-63.

But, for now, Burlingame is the team of the hour in a league that is so evenly balanced that just the slightest change in personnel for one team or another might alter an already extremely tight race.

The Panthers did the job on the Dons by utilizing an aggressive man-to-man defense and a methodical, driving offense which finally slashed through the Aragon 1-2-2 zone in the second half.

Some excellent outside gunning by guard Tim Goll and forward Bill Beuttler also succeeded in breaking the game open late in the third period and in the early stages of the fourth

After trailing for the entire first half (once by as much as ten points), Burlingame came back to take the lead — for the first time — 29-28, at 4:10 of the third quarter on a 17-footer by Buettler.

Then, in the final frame, the Panthers wrapped up their 11th victory of the year (the most in San Mateo County this season) and their second in a row in the MPL by outscoring Aragon, 8-4, during a critical period at the end of the game. Skip Conley got the winning points on two foul shots with about a minute to play.

Burlingame Coach Frank Bettendorf remarked after the game that, "It is still too early to tell who's going to win it. I've said all along that a 10-2 record will do it. But there are no patsies in this league. Where do you get a rest?"

The Panthers were led by Beuttler's 19 points and Goll's 16. Center Craig Healy did a masterful job as he tallied ten points and grabbed off a bundle of rebounds.

Aragon, now 1-1 in league play and 9-4 for the year, was led by its standout junior forward Jim Romey who bagged 18 points.

Burlingame actually won the game on the free throw line where they converted 15 of their 20 chances. Aragon had just seven charity attempts and made four of them.

Bettendorf's outfit next takes on Capuchino on Wednesday afternoon in San Bruno. That one will be shown on Channel 38 via tape at 8 that same night.

If the Panthers continue to display their current brand of poise and aplomb they may well be in line for an Emmy.

Hillsdale leaped back into the middle of the league race as the Knights led throughout the second half to win relatively easily despite 20 points from Capuchino guard Matt Kriletich.

The tall and burly Knights got a combined 45 points from Mike Stephens, Gary Texley and Mike Rutherglen to up their MPL mark to 1-1.

It was a must victory for the defending champions who, like Burlingame, won the game from the free throw line, hitting on 24 charities to just eight for Cap.

Don Jordan's 27-point performance paced San Mateo to a frenetic victory over Mills in a contest that saw the lead change hands 15 times and left no one sure of a winner till one dozen seconds were left on the clock.

Westborough Project For S.S.F. Told

A multi-million dollar real estate transaction involving the sale of most of the remaining undeveloped portions of the Westborough Planned Community in South San Francisco has been proposed to the city council by representatives of Caesar-Callan Homes, Inc., and a new firm designated as the South San Francisco Corporation.

The Caesar-Callan firm is seeking city sanction for the sale of Tracts G and H of West Park Subdivisions One and Two along Carter Way, Leaks Way and Shannon Drive; a parcel of land formerly slated for use as a school site in the same area, and the entire 130 acres remaining in the West Park Three Subdivision.

According to city sources, the Caesar-Callan firm, present developers of Westborough, would retain only commercial acreage and a few other small parcels within the incompleted portion of the mammoth project under terms of the proposed sale to the new corporation.

The new development firm, which is reportedly backed by Los Angeles financiers, would assume responsibility for completion of the proposed two-and a half acre city park in the area, contribution of $240,000 toward the Westborough Boulevard widening project, construction of Galway Place from Westborough Boulevard to the new fire station site, and other public improvements under terms of the proposed sale.

Mayor Frank Bertucelli, council members, and the city staff discussed the proposed transaction with representatives of the principal involved in a five-hour meeting Wednesday night, and city officials are reportedly in agreement in favoring the arrangement.

There have been numerous delays in construction of city park sites, school and fire station sites and other improvements in Westborough in the past, and portions of the property were placed in escrow in 1967 because of Caesar-Callan's failure to finish the city projects on schedule.

Construction of homes in the subdivision has also lagged during the past two years because of difficulties in financing.

According to City Attorney John Noonan, the new development firm would proceed with current plans in completing the subdivisions, with houses similar to those already built in other areas of Westborough ($35,000 and up) slated for construction.

City sources said about 1,600 undeveloped home sites remain in the planned community.

Work would begin immediately on construction of 144 houses, and the city park would be completed by May 15, as prescribed by the city's agreement with Caesar-Callan, under the proposed sale agreement, Noonan said.

Two spokesmen said backers of the South San Francisco project are also involved in the San Carlos Hills Subdivision development in San Carlos, and numerous other projects in Southern California.

They have been asked to file financial statements with the city, according to the city attorney.

Noonan said he hopes to have the necessary documents for finalizing the transaction prepared prior to the next regular council meeting, scheduled January 20, and council action is expected at that time.

Jefferson Band Concert Features 4

Jefferson Union High School District will present the sixth annual joint band concert at 8 p.m. January 17 in the gym at Jefferson High School in Daly City. The merging of the four bands results in one large band of 220 members.

Directors from each of the high schools will direct two numbers.

The idea of a joint band concert was conceived many years ago by the district superintendent and was held at Oceana six years ago. Each year the concert is rotated among the high schools, with the host director taking charge of arrangements.

With the emphasis on cooperation rather than competition, these concerts have worked to create good relationships among the district's music departments. Students work together to produce a fine performance and develop lasting friendships in the process, a district spokesman said.

Band members are purposely intermingled by two's and at concert time a colorful picture results from the mixing of uniforms representing the colors of each school.

Admission is $1. Tickets may be purchased from any band member or at the door.

May Finish For Skyline College Seen

Construction work on San Mateo Junior College District's new Skyline College in San Bruno should be completed by early May, according to Matteo V. Fasanaro, assistant district superintendent for buniness affairs.

Skyline, which will be the third public junior college in the district, is scheduled to open to students next September.

Fasanaro made his progress report to the board of trustees Wednesday night at a meeting at College of San Mateo.

Preliminary planning for the opening of the new campus moved ahead on two other important fronts at the meeting.

Acting on the recommendation of Skyline's president, Philip Garlington, the board named first members of the staff which will work with him and approved lease of a trailer to be used on the San Bruno site as a temporary administrative office.

Cletus Banworth, cirrently on leave after some 20 years of service as a mathematics instructor at College of San Mateo, was sppointed assistant to the president; Rex Butler was hired as head of the office of admissions and registration, and Mrs. Gertrude Steele, Garlington's secretary at CSM in his previous capacity as dean of instruction there, was employed as presidential secretary at Skyline.

Fitzgerald Chairs Area Road Panel

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald of San Bruno has been named San Mateo County Chairman of Citizens for Freeways and Highways.

Robert W. Boles of Calaveras, president of the County Supervisor's Association of California and Northern California Chairman of the citizen group, announced Fitzgerald's appointment.

"We're pleased to have a man of this caliber spearheading our effort in the San Mateo area," Boles said.

In accepting leadership of the public service group in his area, Fitzgerald said:

"We have a good diversified economy here in Northern California and a pleasantly roomy way of life. It will take good highways to keep both of these things as our community grows.

"We must see that work continues at least as fast as planned on the California Freeway and Expressway system. To divert the tax monies that are allocated for the construction and maintenance of our highways would be a serious mistake."

Citizens for Freeways and Highways is associated with the Freeway Support Committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber committee has organized the citizen group as a "grass roots" ally for its effort to see tha progress continues on California's modern 12,500-mile freeway and expressway system now just one-third complete.

Fitzgerald is a former mayor and city councilman of San Bruno. As a supervisor he is now involved in committee work on highways, airport traffic, intergovernment relations and in many other areas.

Try Golden Pies For Real Occasions

There's a special sense of hospitality that accompanies the serving of a warm, fragrant dessert to guests. Perhaps no dessert quite replaces the apple pie as a favorite with everyone. There are many versions of this delightful dessert, but we think today's two recipes are particularly good.

The Rosette Apple Pie uses the Washington Golden Delicious apple in an unusual way. They're cut in half, then partially sliced to fanout while baking and are surrounded with a creamy custard filling. Glazed with currant jelly, this is a picture-pretty dessert.

A second version of custard-like pie is the Apple-Pecan Pie. Flavored with cinnamon and nutmeg, the apple slices bake in a cream filling and are topped with pecans.

Both of these delectable pies are made with Washington Golden Delicious apples. This is the gold-skinned, all-purpose variety which is flavorful and refreshing whether used for pies and puddings, or salads and snacks. They're available to us now in excellent conditon and will add fresh spark to any winter menu.

Rosette Apple Pie

1 10-inch unbaked pastry shell
4 Washington State apples
4 tablespoons dark seedless raisins
Water
2 teaspoons flour
1 cup light cream
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
6 tablespoons granulated sugar
3 eggs
2 tablespoons slivered almonds
¼ cup red currant jelly

Pre-heat oven to 375 degrees F. Wash, pare, core apples; cut each in half crosswise. With the tip of a knife make five cuts in the rim of each apple, to within ¼ inch of the base. (This allows the apple to fan out as it bakes). Arrange apples, cut side up in a circle; centering one, in unbaked pie shell. Bake 30 minutes. While pie bakes, soak raisins in hot water to cover. Combine flour, cream, cinnamon, sugar. Blend in eggs well, one at a time. Drain raisins; use half to fill cavities of each apple. Pour custard around apples; bake 35 minutes, or until almost set. Place remaining raisins in center of each apple, Bake 15 minutes longer, or until golden. Remove from oven to rack. Heat currant jelly with two teaspoons water, stir until smooth. Brush over apples. Serve in wedges. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

Apple Pecan Pie

3½ cup Washington State apples, peeled and sliced
1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell
1 cup sugar
5 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup evaporated milk
¼ cup water
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted

Topping
¼ cup brown sugar
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup chopped pecans

Arrange sliced apples in unbaked pastry shell. In a small bowl mix together the one cup sugar, flour, salt, cinnamon, evaporated milk, water and butter. Pour over the apples slices. Topping: Mix the ¼ cup brown sugar, ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg and chopped nuts and sprinkle over top of pie. Bake at 425 degrees F. for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 degrees F. and continue baking for about 1 hour or until apples are tender. Cover with aluminum foil for last 35 minutes of baking.

Change in Lamb Bake

Then you'll enjoy lamb even more with chopped parsley or ground allspice.

For a change, bake ground lamb mixture in a ring mold, served unmolded on a large platter with creamed potatoes and peas in the center.

Chops Are Perennial Favorites

Chops are perennial favorites. Pork lamb or veal chops can be cooked "as is" or dressed up with a sauce, a glaze or a stuffing.

Luckily, there's a chop to fit everyone's budget and any time schedule. Of the three categories, loin chops are the most expensive. They're quick-to-fix, always tender and the epitome of the chop dinners. Fine restaurants serve them with a flourish.

Select loin chops for a special occasion as they are costly and grand.

Rib chops, somewhat less expensive than the loin, contain no tenderloin, but are succulent and delightful.

The most economical of the three types are shoulder chops, containing an arm or blade bone. They boast an excellent flavor with more meat on the chop, but they must be cooked longer to achieve maximum tenderness. Pan-broiling, panfrying or braising are the recommended methods.

Possibilities for dressing the chops in elegant style are endless. Broiled chops, for example, may be brushed with a butter, tarragon and white wine mixture before serving for added flair.

Loin lamb chops may be marinated in a mixture of curry and soy sauce before broiling. Chops may be devilled by pressing them into buttered crumbs before grilling.

Perhaps the most delectable gourmet touch is a glaze for the chops. Pork chops take kindly to a trio of honey, orange juice and cognac, brushed on several times during the cooking period.

For lamb shoulder chops, try pizza style by browning the chops slowly in a skillet. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and garlic salt, then cover each chop with tomato paste, oregano and a slice of Mozzarella cheese. Cover the skillet and simmer the chops for 45 minutes or until fork tender. If it becomes dry, add tomato juice.

Bone Up On How To Buy Meats

Bone up on how to buy meat and your studies will result in lower meat costs.

A home economist admits that women often are confused about the cost, tenderness and cooking methods of many meat cuts. A simple test of bone shape tells all

Three bone shapes are easily recognizable in most cuts. The T-bone, shaped like a T, stands for tenderness. It usually stands for higher cost as it is the tender, fast cooking cuts which cost more. T-bone steaks are an excellent example. They may, of course, be broiled to perfection in a very short time, the time dependent on the thickness and the degree of doneness desired.

An O-shaped, or round bone, indicates that the cut is somewhat less expensive and also less tender, requiring a longer, slower cooking method. Round steak has a round bone. Braising turns this less tender cut into a tasty morsel. Some recipes require that round steak be baked, again giving it the longer, slower cooking it needs.

A third bone shape to remember is the blade bone, a long slender bone, easily seen in the beef pot roast and other cuts. Again, slow cooking is a must for blade bone meat cuts. These cuts are less tender and less expensive.

While they're boning up, remember that less tender means before cooking, not after. Using the correct cooking method, you'll find that these cuts might turn into family favorite meats that they'll request again and again. What's more tasty on a cold winter night than a delectable pot roast, simmering for hours in a large pot, with potatoes and vegetables added to the rich, brown gravy?

Your time is the deciding factor. If a meal can't take longer to prepare than 30 minutes to fit into your time schedule, steaks and chops it must be. But if you'll be home to give a less tender cut the time and loving care it must have, select a less expensive round or blade bone cut.

As prices rise, your knowledge of meat cuts must increase, enabling you to feed your family on a budget, according to your time schedule and with foods they'll like. One way to do it — bone up on meat cuts!

Church Mission

Team/City West Meetings Slated

The Churches of Team-City West will be studying the mission of the local congregation on four Sunday nights beginning January 19 and the three subsequent Sundays.

The congregations will gather at 5:15 p.m. for a supper and following will be a presentation and study and workshops in which the Churches will be invited to look at their ministry to their own particular neighborhoods.

The Team-City West Churches are Wesley Methodist Church, Daly City; Temple Methodist Church, San Francisco; St. Francis Methodist Church, San Francisco; and Park Presidio Methodist Church, San Francisco.

One meeting will be held in each Church, beginning with Wesley Church.

Wesley pastor Jesse Mark said it is anticipated that these meetings will open the congregations minds to a deeper understanding of their reason for being, the possibility of being "where the action is," the necessary modes of existence and the challenge to be guiding the change that is all around us.

It is hoped, he added, that following these meetings the congregations will be prepared to deal progressively with their surroundings and that each congregation will be identifying their particular needs in the community which can be met by a local congregation.

The discussion leaders will be lay men and clergymen of the Team-City West churches.

Coast SDA Baptismal Rites for 3

Pastor W. R. Vail arrived in Pacifica from the island of Haiti to perform the sacred rite of baptism for his two grandchildren, Wendy and Billy Vail. They were joinedd by Gale Chaney a scandidates for membership of the Pacifica Seventh -day Adventist church.

Following the baptismal services, a pot luck dinner by the congregation honored the three new baptised members and Pastor and Mrs. W .R. Vail, and Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Martinsen of Kentanzania, Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. Martinsen and their four children, having a holiday reunion with the Mrs. parents and brothers family, the Wayne Vails of Pacifica,, are on one-year furlough in the United States. They will return to Ikizu Training School and their job of teaching in this mission school as high school teachers in July.

The Martinsens showed their pictures of the Holy Land at the sundown services.

Following the Vesper services, the congregation caravaned to the new home of the Wayne Vail Family, 844 Burns Court, Pacifica, for a housewarming party.

Youth Sunday At Bethlehem

Youth Sunday will be observed at Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Pacifica Sunday.

Youth groups from two coastside Lutheran churches, Westlake Lutheran in Daly City and Bethlehem Lutheran in Pacifica, have planned the service and will lead the congregation in worship at both the 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. services.

A contemporary form of the service utilizing folk music and non-traditional language will be used.

Guitars will accompany the hymn singing and congregational responses.

The sermon, entitled , "Hang Down Your Head Jeremiah" will be in the form of a dramatic dialog between the pastor and the youth.

The same service will be presented at Westlake Lutheran Church on January 26. The public is invited.

Bethlehem Lutheran Church is located at 533 Hickey Boulevard, Pacifica.

Sermon Topic Is Announced

"Singing Along the Road to Glory," is to be Pastor Walter Stram's 11 a.m. message on Sunday, at the Peninsula Church of Christ (Christian) in San Bruno, Angus Avenue at Masson.

Bible study groups are held each Sunday at 9:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Brazil Minister, Wife Guests at Colma Church

REVEREND PERKINS

The Rev. Rodger W. Perkins of Brazil will be the speaker at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services Sunday at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 Eighty-seventh Street, Colma.

He will also speak at 7:30 p.m., when he will show color pictures of Brazil and his work there.

He does pastoral ministry at Sobradinho, a suburb of Brasilia, the capitol city of Brazil. He teaches classes in church history at Presbyterian Educational Institute and does some traveling and speaking in primitive rural areas.

Reverend Perkins was a seminary classmate of the local pastor, Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie, before going to Brazil in 1941. Prior to entering the ministry, he was an architect, and graduated from the University of California in this major.

In his early years in Brazil he pioneered the use of an airplane, to quickly cover great distances in his mission ministry to interior Brazil.

He also transported the emergency sick to distant hospitals, as well as taking in teams of doctors. He also continued his work as an architectural designer for church schools and other buildings in Brazil.

He served as chaplain, vice-principal and teacher at Colegio 2 de Julho in Salvador, Bahia and at Institute Samuel Braham in Jatai, Goias.

Sunday his wife, Josephine, will speak at both Sunday School sessions.

Reverend Perkins' sermon subjct at the two worship services is to be "From Southern Cross to Northern Star — One Mission."

Humanization Is A Long Process

The Reverend Gilbert H. Vieira of the Aldersgate United Methodist Church of South San Francisco makes some interesting remarks in this week's issue of his church's bulletin.

Here are some excerpts from his article:

"Humanization is a long, choppy, twisty process of evolution. Humans still clout humans. Nations still act like children angrily grabbing the same toy.

"Even our reputedly most civilized governments have not given up age-old reliance on scientific versions of the club, spear, and meat chopper. And individual violence, in deed, word, and ulceric feeling makes a mockery of the 'sweet and light' season of the year we just celebrated.

"But humanization goes on. Either that or we surely will evaporate from the face of the earth.

"Christ's power is the only power that humanizes, that reveals as tragic nonsense our trust in armaments, that holds up to the searing judgment of conscience the cruel and callous philosophy of cynical nationalism, that challenges us to look anew at our methods of social punishment — confinement of criminals in places designed to further their education in crime — and our many institutional ways of 'helping' people deeply troubled.

"Humanization means people caring for people. It means regarding each other's dignity and uniqueness and promise. It means not bringing violence of any kind to another.

"Not treating others as political masses to be viewed through our radar screens or prisoners or patients to be stuffed into institutional cages."

Coast Pastor At Retreat; Sermon Topic

The pastor of Westside Baptist Church, Pacifica, is among Northern California Conference ministers attending a "pastor's retreat" at Castaic.

The Rev. A. David Donnelly will return from the retreat for Sunday's activities, which will include Sunday school at 9:45 a.m.

Sunday school classes are geared for the entire family, Pastor Donnelly explains, with three adult classes included.

"Two Obedient Men" is the topic chosen by Pastor Donnelly for the 11 a.m. worship hour message.

Special music will be provided by the Westside Male Quartette.

During the adult worship hour, a primary church service is conducted for boys and girls, four through seven years of age.

A nursery also is maintained for babies and toddlers.

There will be no evening services at the church Sunday.

Fairway Park Baptist Church, 31322 Medinah, Hayward, has invited the Westside Congregation to worship with them at their 7:15 p.m. service.

Variety Show Being Planned

"General Madness" is the variety show being rehearsed by the circles of the St. Veronica's Women's Club.

It will be presented on January 24 and 25 at 8 p.m. at the South San Francisco High School.

The public is invited to the performances.

EARLY ENRICO CARUSO recordings are played for the entertainment pleasure of Scotty Campbell's dinner guests while lingering in the cocktail lounge. If you have any at home, bring them in for a "spin."

Caruso Recordings Are Scotty Campbell's Bag

Mary Lou Francis, co-owner of Redwood City's Scotty Campbell's, is not only one of the Peninsula's leading ladies of the restaurant industry, she's an avid collector of unusual antiques. To describe her objects of a by-gone period (many are restaurant functional) would require many Bright Lights column inches. One of her more interesting cocktail lounge additions is a 1908 Victor phonograph console, from which emanates the famous tenor voice of Enrico Caruso singing an early recording of "O Solo Mio" . . . The next best thing to creating a new dish is re-discovering an old one. That's what chef Ed Zago of Belmont Chuck Wagon has done with his veal scaloppine, featured at luncheon. Ed starts with thinly sliced choice veal, then tops it with a delicious scaloppine sauce . . . Richard Knight, vice president and general manager of Avis Corp. in the East, hosted a dinner party for local friends at Lew Lehr's in S.F.'s Marina while visiting here.

M. L. Francis

"Fisherman's Wharf of the Peninsula" appropriately describes Vince Licata's Italian and sea food restaurant. From fresh cracked crab to steamed clams, baked lasagne to zabaione (Italian wine custard), every meal is one that counts with this crew of skillful chefs. For fresh seafood, poultry and delicatessen treats to take home, visit Vince's next-door Fish Depot . . . Hearty western-style dishes are specialties of the house at the Black Angus Chuck Wagon, where the dining policy is "all you can eat." Many hot entrees and a wide selection of salads and appetizers are attractively arranged around the buffet table. The dinner price, whether it's for one or four helpings, is just $1.95 . . . The Villa Chartier and Lanai are a winning combination when it comes to fashion shows, wedding receptions, sales meetings and club meetings. To have a winner you also have to present the best in food, beverages and service — and this, too, has been the reputation of these two prominent Emerson Muffee-owned restaurants for many successful years.

Body Found After Fatal Cliff Plunge

The body of a San Francisco man believed to have been killed in a car wreck early Sunday morning was found in a wooded ravine off Sharp Park Road in Pacifica Wednesday.

Police said the body of Herman Lum, 33, 837 Arguello Boulevard, was located in a 12-foot-deep ravine yesterday about 200 feet from the spot where his wrecked automobile was found on Monday.

Lum apparently ran off Sharp Park Road and over the steep cliff at Hickey Point a half mile east of Cabrillo Highway while on his way home from a late night party in South San Francisco.

Police said he was last seen leaving the party, and was apparently alone in the car.

A Pacifica Park Department employe spotted the wrecked car about 100 yards down the face of the steep slope Monday. Officers searched the area, but found so sign of the driver.

A check of the automobile registration showed the vehicle belonged to Lum, an appraiser for the Federal Housing Authority office in San Francisco.

Police contacted his office, and co-workers reported Lum, who apparently lived alone, had failed to report to work Monday morning.

Police from Pacifica and Hillsborough searched the area of the wreck again on Tuesday, this time using dogs, but again failed to locate any sign of the missing man.

Lum's body was discovered in the "erosion gulch" Wednesday by his brother-in-law, Henry Jung of San Bruno.

According to police, the body was lying beneath bushes at the bottom of the ravine.

Mary's Help Director Promoted

Sister Teresa, administrator of Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City, has been appointed a member of the Council of the recently formed Western Province of the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul. Also appointed to the Council as treasurer is Sister Emily, director of finance at Mary's Help.

This new Western Province, under the direction of Sister Rose Collins, provincial superior, will be located in San Jose. The Council consists of Sisters representing the various fields of work in which the Daughters of Charity are engaged. It will give overall direction to the activities of the two hundred Daughters of Charity in the twelve schools, five social agencies and three hospitals in the six western states which comprise the Western Province.

Sister Teresa, who has served as administrator at Mary's Help since August, will continue to hold her present position and reside at the hospital, whereas Sister Emily will probably take up residence at the Provincial House within a few months.

Doghouse In Flames

A dog died Thursday when a doghouse went up in flames in the backyard of the Emile Vaurs residence at 898 Hanover Street, Daly City.

The rear exterior of the Vaurs home was damaged by the 1 a.m. blaze that had destroyed the doghouse in which the family pet was sleeping before firemen arrived.

Firemen estimated damage to the Vaurs house at $600.

$525,981 Windfall To County

County Clerk-Recorder Marvin Church closed his books for the 1968 calendar year by turning over $525,981.45 to the County of San Mateo and its cities from his operation of the documentary transfer tax.

Of the net collection from property transfers, the County of San Mateo will receive $306,128.74, Church said, and the balance will be distributed to the cities on a pro-rata basis. The City of San Mateo will receive a lion's share of $31,435.68, while Redwood City will receive $24,384.21.

The revenue accrues, Clerk-Recorder Marvin Church explained, from relinquishment by the federal government a year ago of taxes imposed on property transfers from one owner to another.

The taxes, which historically went to the federal government, were reallocated to the counties and cities and may be used to reduce homeowners' taxes on real estate. Under present law, the funds will go into the general fund of the county and cities. Amounts of cash other cities of the county will receive by distribution, Church said, include: Atherton $7,605.56, Belmont $13,935.85, Burlingame $14,970.15, Daly City $18,547.49, Hillsborough $10,805.17, Colma $1,201.19, Menlo Park $16,127.33, San Bruno $15,327.53, San Carlos $14,560.66, So. San Francisco $15,324.91, Millbrae $10,499.08, Woodside $4,463.22, Pacifica $13,980.38, Half Moon Bay $2,224.43, Brisbane $1,002.61 and Portola Valley $3,557.37.

D.C. Firemen Save Man

A Daly City man, overcome by smoke when his supper burned to a crisp whie he slept on a nearby sofa was revived by Daly City firemen after they dragged him from a smoke-charged apartment Friday.

Firemen said Thomas M. Mullen, 29, was found on the sofa in basement apartment at 3299 San Jose Avenue at 9:06 p.m.

He was taken unconscious outside, where he was quickly revived in the fresh air. Firemen said they administered oxygen until "the patient appeared normal."

Hospitalization was not required, they said.

Mullen apparently had come home from work about three hours earlier, firemen explained, put his supper on the kitchen stove to cook and then went to rest on the sofa.

He fell asleep and the food on the stove started burning and generated smoke throughout the apartment.

A resident of an upstairs apartment, Ronald Ruybal, noticed smoke coming from the apartment and he dashed to pull a streetside fire alarm box.

Firemen were required to enter the apartment through a kitchen window.

Grinder Traps MV Trucker

Gary T. Garoutte, 24-year-old Mountain View truck driver, is still in fair condition in the intensive care unit at Peninsula Hospital after his foot was severed in an industrial accident Wednesday in San Bruno.

The young driver for Molder Bros. Company was injured when his foot was caught in a grinder on the truck on Sneath Lane near Junipero Serra boulevard. A passing motorist attempted to assist and then called police and firemen. A doctor severed the foot to free the man. It was sewn on again at the hospital in an attempt to save the injured part.

$12,500 Study To Promote Tourism

A $12,500 study to determine if more can be done to attract tourism and conventioneering in San Mateo County was authorized Wednesday by the Board of Sopervisors.

Acting on the recommendation of County Manager E. R. Stallings, the board agreed to hire Travel Development Corporation to make the review. Robert C. Allen, president of the company, is former manager of the Hawaii tourist bureau.

For the past two years the county has contracted with the Fair and Convention Association for tourist and convention promotion, financing the program with a hotel-motel occupancy tax.

"It appears expedient," Stallings told the board, "that an evaluation be made of both our objectives and our efforts to achieve those objectives."

Etallings said aggressive action is needed by the county "if we are to capture our share of the lucrative travel business." He asserted that San Francisco and the Bay Area is losing its standing as the gateway to the Pacific and Orient. New flights have been authorized from other points, he pointed out, and some Hawaii-bound airliners now fly over this area from easterly points without stopping at the airport here, "carrying precious tourist revenue completely past us."

Postal Clerks Exams Set

Postmaster James J. Kehoe of San Mateo announces examinations for substitute Clerk and Carrier positions for the following Post Offices: Burlingame, Daly City, Millbrae, San Bruno, San Mateo, South San Francisco, and San Francisco Airport Mail Facility.

Applications for employment will, in most cases, be delivered to people in these communities. In the event that anyone does not receive an application, one may be obtained at any of the above listed Post Offices.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, sex, political affiliations, or any other non-merit factor.
